2: Durham B-5 (ca. 1910)1928 EG1 Albania EG1

the Gruda church was built three hundred and eighty years ago, soon after their arrival. This dates their settlement at the beginning of the sixteenth century—that is, after the Turks had annexed Bosnia-Herzegovina.

The Djell and Berisha stocks are intermarriageable. About half the tribe was Catholic and half Moslem. It is now scattered and partly destroyed. The Powers awarded it to Montenegro in 1913 as a war prize in spite of the prayers of the people. It was devastated and many refugees fled to Scutari. Again, after the Great War, it was badly handled by the incoming Serbs, who were active against Moslem and Catholic alike. They even tore the rings from the hands of a poor old lady whose only crime was that she was Catholic. I saw many hapless refugees in Scutari in 1921, but was powerless to help them. As in the days of the Turk, a new foe was forcing a shifting of the peoples.

FIG. 1.—SKETCH MAP OF ALBANIAN TRIBES IN 1913

3: Redlich S-3 (no date) 1936 EG1 Albania EG1

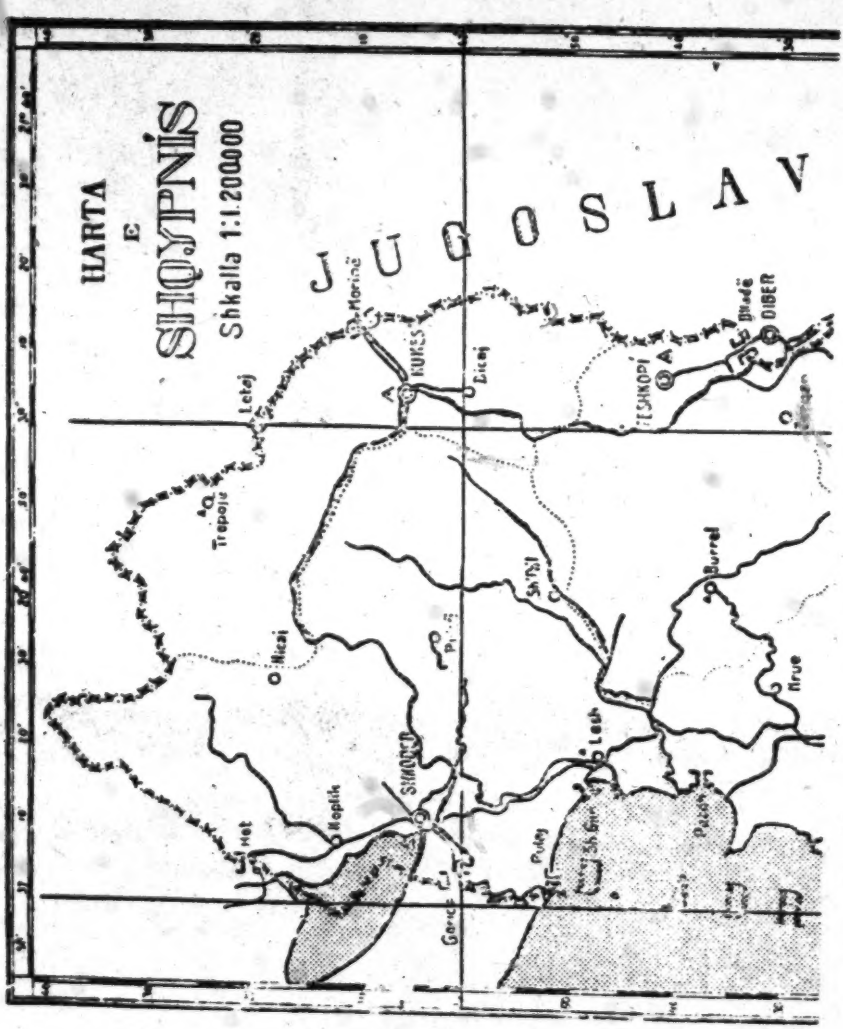
• 102

ALBANIA'S LOCATION IN EUROPE

p. vi(e)

3: Redlich S-3 (no date) 1936 EG1 Albania EG 1

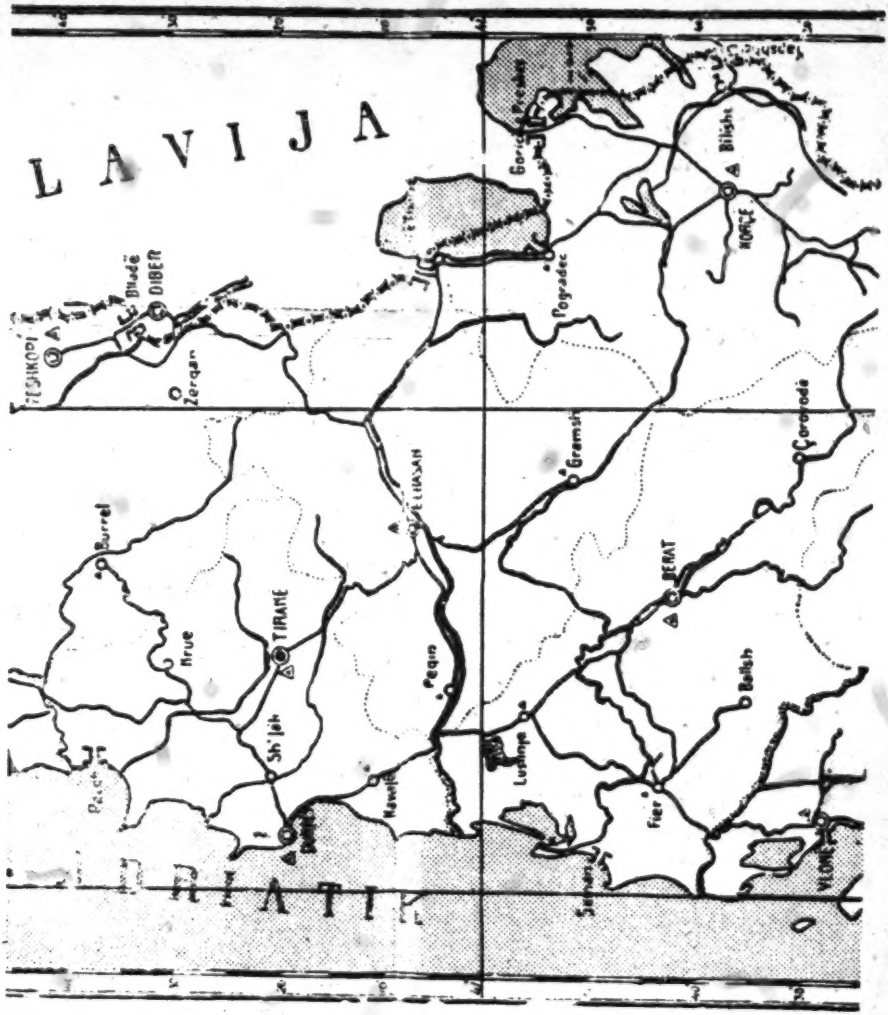
●102



MAP OF

End map (A)

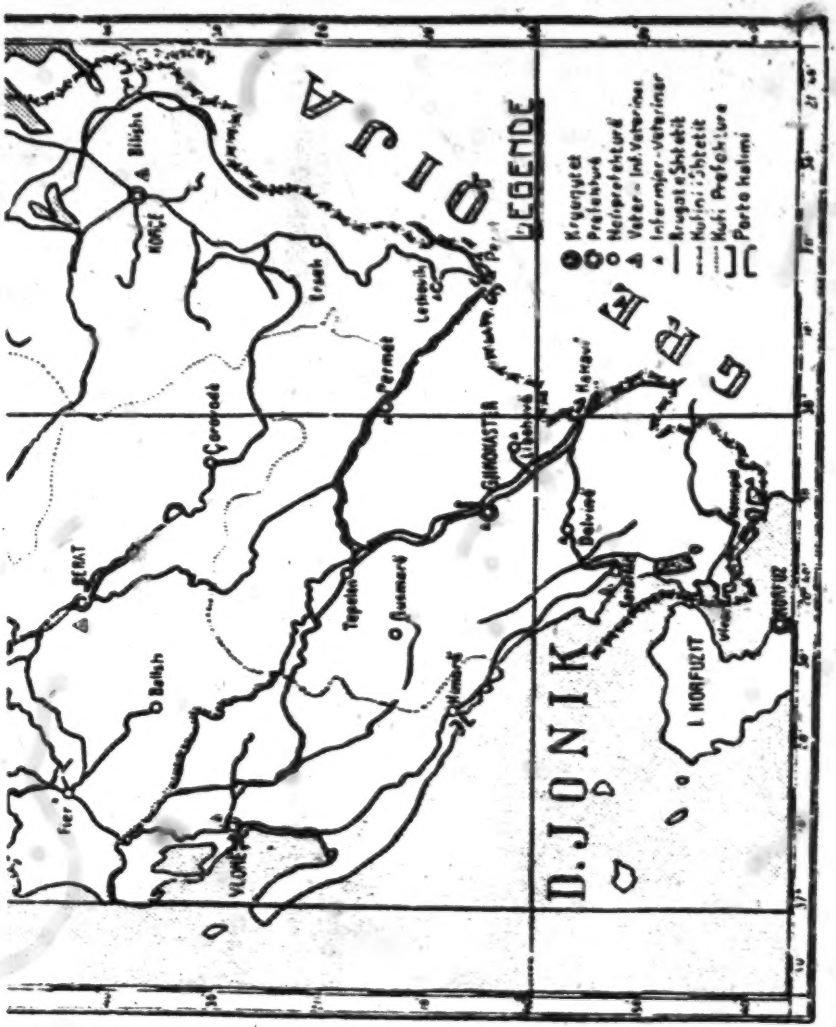
102



MAP OF THE KINGDOM OF ALBANIA

End map (B)

• 102



NIA

End map(c)

102
162
491
496

102
133

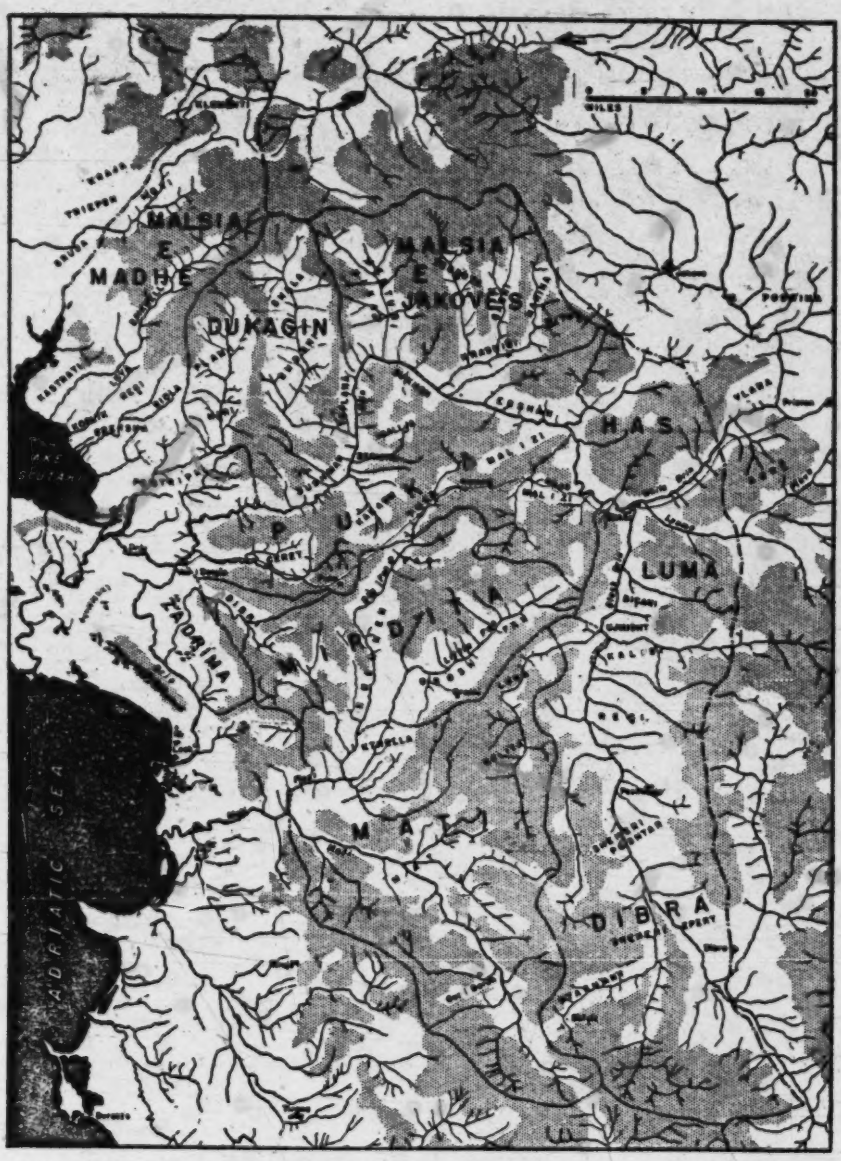


FIG. 1. Northern Albania—the tribal area. (Stippled area symbolizes mountain and forest, unoccupied except as seasonal pasture and source of timber.) Scale, 1: 250,000.

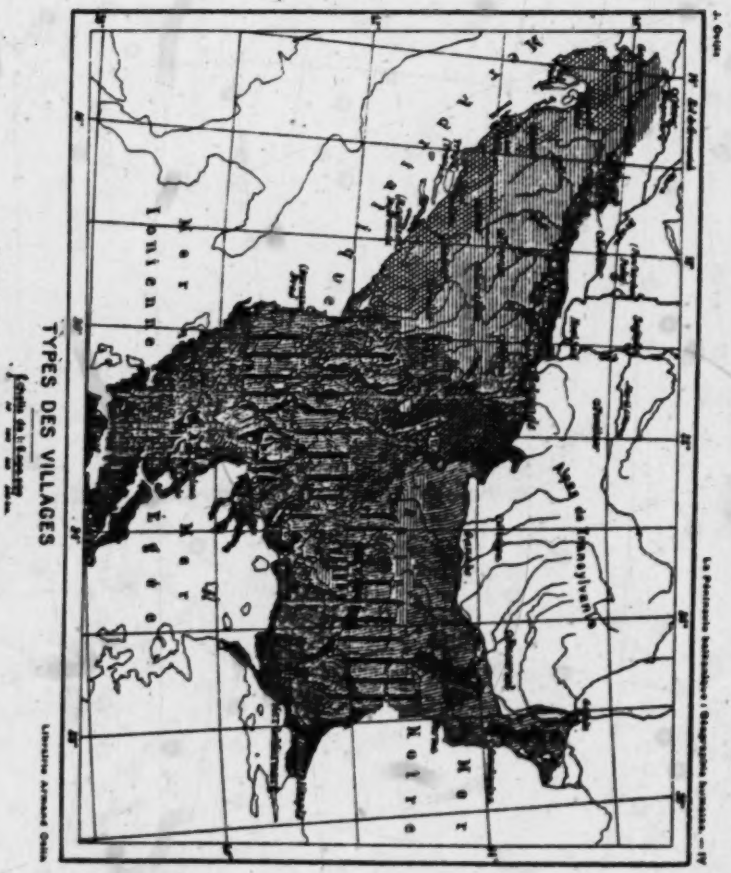
11: Start E-4 (no date) 1939 EF1 Yugoslavia EF1
Albania EG1

AY 102

FIG. 1.—Sketch map of Yugoslavia and Albania. Names and boundaries of countries existing when the garments were collected are given. Modern names in brackets.

17: Thurnher E-4 (no date) 1956 EF6 Serbs EF6
Yugoslavia EF1
Albania EG1
Rumania ED1
Bulgaria EE1

SYSRB
102
36
34



[P.86-R]